Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

January 18, 2002 LB 824

SENATOR FOLEY: (Laugh) I really mean it.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Okay. This bill, to bring us home, does not protect all human life at the embryonic or "sub-embryonic" level, does it, this bill as drafted? It does not do that, does it?

SENATOR FOLEY: No, it does not.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: My amendment, however, would cause it to do that, wouldn't it?

SENATOR FOLEY: Well, I don't know. I'd have to...I'd just have to study that further. I don't know.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you,...

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...Senator Foley. Members of the Legislature, Senator Foley is not pro-life enough. I'm going by the standards set by that organization. He doesn't believe that we ought to protect all human life at this stage of development because now we're playing politics. This is why I said the Catholic Church is a political entity, and some of those who attack me for saying that and said what I said was vile are showing their political stripe now. Senator Foley has become a politician when it comes to the issue of protecting life. I am offering him the opportunity to put into law the protection for all of the life that he says ought to be protected, but I don't think he's got the stomach, he hasn't got the belly, he hasn't got the moxie to do that. Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Chambers, you may continue.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Foley, I'd like to ask you a question. Are you going to support this amendment?

SENATOR FOLEY: I'm sorry.
